

Romsey Food Fair returns with a feast from local businesses.

Romsey Food Fair returns on Sunday 3 September showcasing local and regional exquisite food and drink suppliers.

Romsey's historic market town will be filled with stalls, a moveable feast of fantastic local and regional producers and suppliers in one glorious gastronomic event. The streets will be brimming with tasty quality produce, artisan stalls, delicious mouth-watering street food, tastings, and outstanding brewers and distillers.

The event is organised by Romsey & District Chamber of Commerce & Industry; a local business network with members from Romsey and surrounding areas. It is owned and managed by local businesses whose goal is to protect and promote business interests and the general prosperity of the community.

Adam Clemett, President from Romsey & District Chamber of Commerce and Industry said: "This will be our second year managing the Food Fair and we are excited to be back, giving food lovers the chance to discover some of the finest produce the area has to offer. It's easy to support the local community by visiting the Romsey Food Fair as not only will you be treated to the best independently sourced and made produce, but you will also be helping local farmers and businesses thrive.

"The free event will be in full swing from 10am – 4pm, so come to discover and delight in the sights, sounds, tastes, and smells of the day. You can wander among the stands and meet the local producers themselves, find out about the processes involved in making their products and feel their passion. We can guarantee you will find plenty of locally made produce for you to enjoy at the Fair and take home with you."

This year's proud sponsors are Bramshaw Golf Club, which is set against the stunning backdrop of the New Forest, and The Bell Inn, a charming country Pub, dog friendly, 26-bedroom coaching inn with oodles of character, nestled in the heart of the Forest easily accessible via the A36 and M27. Chris Lambird, Head Chef of The Bell Inn said: "We are very proud to be sponsoring the Romsey Food Fair which supports and promotes local producers and traders. Local produce is at the core of our business, and we believe in promoting and showcasing quality independent suppliers. We are looking forward to being there on the day, so pop over and say hello whilst tasting and exploring what the Food Fair will offer."

We are also lucky to have Romsey based sponsors Parker Bullen, The Mortgage Stop and Kit & Caboodle.

Dandys Ford Dairy will be returning for their second year at the Fair selling their amazing milk, milkshakes and new for this year, artisan gelato! Emma Hunt owner said: “We are really excited this year to launch our gelato made from the milk of our happy cows and then given to our friends at Moody Cow Gelato in Fordingbridge to create the delicious creamy delight! Our micro dairy is situated just outside Romsey where our cows keep their calves with them and share the milk with us. High animal welfare and compassionate farming is at the heart of our whole business.”

Suzi Shilling, Business, Events and Tourism Officer from Romsey Town Council, who are one of the supporting partners of the event, said: “This is a great opportunity for local businesses and producers to come together with the community and enjoy a celebration of food and drink. Romsey is a fantastic setting for this event being an historic market town, and we welcome visitors to ‘make a day of it’ and peruse our independent and high street shops and visitor attractions. Romsey is accessible by train and buses, or you can park in eight Test Valley Borough Council car parks which are free on Sundays.”

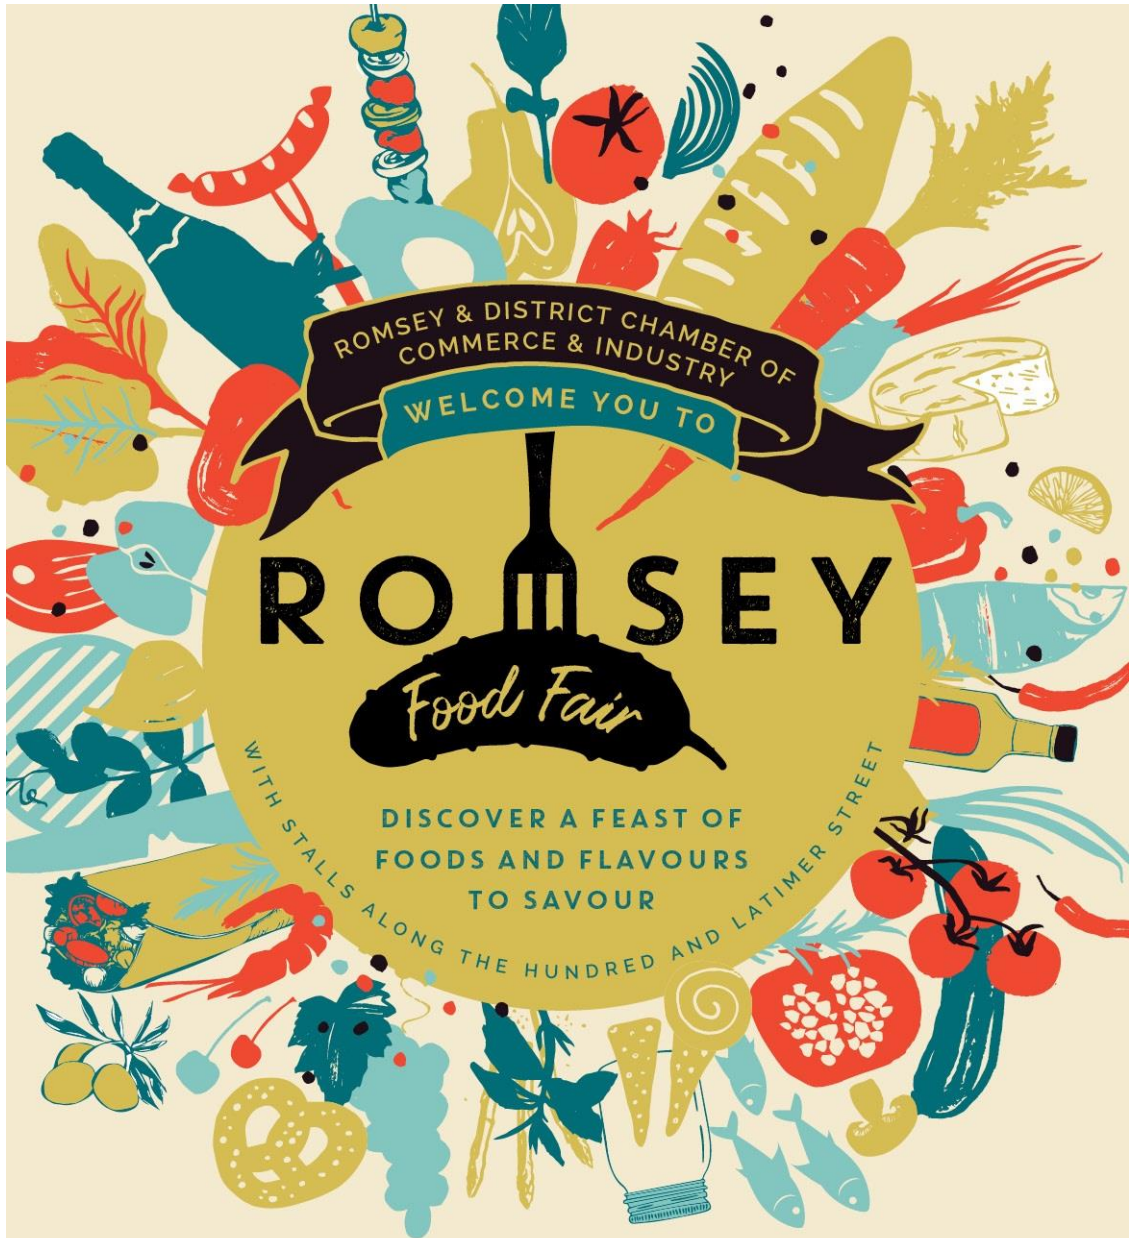

LUC’s is an independent French café situated in the heart of Romsey who like last year are partnering up with The Greyhound, Broughton to sell their famous soufflés. Husband and wife team Kerry and Ryan Lamb said: “We can’t wait to be back selling our speciality soufflés; you can either buy them to take home with you or we can do the cooking and you can sit and relax with a glass or two from LUC’s. Last year we had a great time talking to the customers and celebrating all things local, made from regional producers and traders.”

Romsey Food Fair is a not-for-profit event.

Romsey Food Fair would like to thank our supporting partners, whom without their support this event would not be possible; Bongo Creative, Ace Liftaway, WDJP Media, Romsey Town Council and Test Valley Borough Council.
